A GALLANT FINISH

In view of all that happened in that sensational football game at Alliance yesterday afternoon, it is extremely doubtful in the minds of some gridiron observers whether the best team won.So some are content to let it go with the compromise that Alliance was the better team in the first half and Salem in the second, but most of us are confident that if the game had continued five more minutes, the Quakers, and not their ancient enemy, would have been the victors.However, the gallant last-half stand made by Coach Lew Smith's lads, to many fans, more than atones for any gridiron misdeeds of which they may have been guilty. In this respect they demonstrated a fortitude, a fighting spirit far greater than the victor's. It is not easy to spot a foe 27 points and then come back the way the Quakers did. But come back they did and their marvelous battle provided a fitting climax to the season.Inexperienced, lighter than most of the teams they have played, the Quakers have given a good account of themselves. They were not expected to sweep to championship heights this season. To many, they have surpassed anticipations. They've been fighters, win or lose, and loyal to their school. We offer congratulations to Lew Smith and his lads.

THIRTY DAYS TO WAIT

The beginning of December, besides ushering in the Christmas shopping season, opens the annual struggle to get Ohio motorists equipped with new license plates for their vehicles. Somehow or other it always gets done, but at what a price!The deadline is Dec. 31, at midnight. That gives automobile owners approximately 30 days to resolve to get their license plates before the horror of the last day at the license bureaus. Persistent education has made a deadline possible, but apparently nothing will prevent it from being inconvenient.A deadline on June 30 would have the same disad-vantage, decreased somewhat by the fact that June isn't as busy a month as December. The proposal to issue new licenses before July 1, instead of Jan. 1, has much to commend it. The sight of busy Ohioans trying to find time, money and excuses to get new numbers this month while their thoughts and hours are full of holiday activities will be enough to convince any reasonable mind that the whole thing could be done much more easily in June.

NOT TO DIE, BUT TO LIVE

Christmas Seals this year bear the picture of a tiny, one-story cottage set in a background of pine trees and snow. What does it mean?Factually, this much. The cottage is the first sanatorium for the modern treatment of tuberculosis. It was built in 1884 by Dr. Edward Livingstone Trudeau, founder of the treatment.Dr. Trudeau, afflicted with tuberculosis when it still was one of the incurable diseases, went to Saranac Lake as a young man to die. He selected this location in the Adirondack mountains because he loved it.Youth and intelligence proved stronger than fate.
Dr. Trudeau discovered he felt better when he rested.
From that fundamental observation he developed a treatment which has reclaimed hundreds of thousands of lives. Since 1884 people have been going to Saranac Lake and to other sanatoria, not to die but to live.Some things just as real as facts, however, still cannot be called facts. One of them is the thing which will cause millions of Christmas seals bearing a sketch of Dr. Trudeau's first tiny sanatorium to be sold this year in the United States.These seals, costing only a penny apiece, will make it possible for men, women and children afflicted with tuberculosis to get their chance to live. It is not for want of knowledge and equipment that they must face death, but only for want of money.Other men, women and children, fortunate in possession of health and money, are willing to share with them that which can be shared—money. Organization and humanitarianism have made it possible. Christmas Seals are everywhere. For a few pennies, anyone can purchase for himself a share in the highest satisfaction Christmas can give—goodwill toward men.
That is what the humble little cottage on the 1934 Christmas Seals means. It's more than a building identified with a date 50 years ago. It's the symbol of a spirit among men, born ages ago and destined to live forever.

THE STARS SAY

For Friday, November 30

A very active, lively and interesting day in both business and private associations may be predicted from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects. It is probable that there will be excitement, agitation and possibly strife and contention if not more aggravating developments, but in all pertaining to writings, publishings, advertising or promotion there should be ample progress and quick returns. In private affairs an elderly person may prove a friendly as well as a profitable contact. In all be careful with funds and speculation.Those whose birthday it is may be ready for a very lively and progressive year, with valuable connections with the elderly a well as in those business affairsinvolving letters, writings, publishing and promotion.
A child born on this day may be energetic, resourceful and versatile, with many trials in the fire and much agitation if not undue passion and zeal in putting over its plans.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—The romantic career of the former Josephine Armstrong is almost fulfilling the Laura Jean Libby title—"From Mannequin to Royalty." She is a Washington, D. C. girl who began displaying clothes at Peggy Hoyt's and was selected by Jean Patou for his rue Florentin establishment.It was there she met and married the blond and popular Erskine Gayne, great nephew of the dowager Mrs. Vanderbilt, and leader of the young American set. While their marriage went on th rocks they remained friends. He came to America and she went to London.She is now being discussed in London society columns as the prospective bride of the Earl of Dudley, a widower with two sons, great wealth and one of the finest yachts in Mediterranean waters. The Earl of Dudley is a companion of the Prince of Wales, often his house guest.Mrs. Gayne is tall, thin and her abundant crop of rust-red hair is responsible for the nick-name "Foxy," by which she is known in London and on the continent. Dressmakers say no one of her time knows so well as she how to wear clothes, especially evening gowns.And most conspicuous of New York's wealthy bachelor girls is the tall, blonde Doris Duke. Her wardrobe is reputedly most extensive in the upper circles. Rarely is she seen in the same evening frock twice. And she uses several different motor cars for day and a variety for night.Charlie Chaplin has not visited New York in many months. He used to make one and sometimes two visits a year. His constant companion on these excursions was the late Ralph Barton, artist, who was also a frequent visitor at the Chaplin home. It so happens the comedian has not been here since Barton's passing.Chaplin and Charlie Judels have the most astonishing gifts of lingual mimicry. Each can simulate almost any language, although actually they speak only English. But Chaplin has to be caught in one of those suddenly effervescent moods, and when he is he has, time after time, turned a conventional dinner party into a multitudinous night-lark, holding the floor until sunup. Mrs. Pat Campbell, shy of social functions, will respond if assured Chaplin will be there.Doc Perry's famous drug store in the old World building, whose evanishment was mourned by an older Fourth Estate, is to be revived in a forthcoming play. In a smaller way it was as much of an institution as Jack's, Joel's and Rector's. There was a side-room where reporters gathered to fortify themselves against assignments and to freshen their spirits after a day of inquisitions. The familiars of Doc Perry's included Frank Ward O'Malley, Irvin Cobb, Joseph Jefferson O'Neill, Don Clarke and Herbert Swope. Doc Perry's had a buoyancy, dancing persiflage and loyalty for the fallen reporter that often saved his job.There is alluring content along crowded streets of the lower East Side around dusk. The furious boil has become a simmer. Those incredibly old men with long white beards, long black coats and hands folded behind move slowly along lost in the pensive flowering of meditation. The venerable women, bundled in shawls, move out to backless sidewalk chairs preoccupied by the same contemplations. One wonders if the new world is not still strange—"your ways are not our ways." There is about them the vague gaze of caged animals, straining perhaps for some rustic, some far-away cry, some signal of the tribe.I've seen him three times in two days before a gaudy window of haberdashery in my area. A mousey, tittuppy little man in sombre clothes. I know the symptoms. A dollar to cookie he aches to bust out in one of the Venetian awning ties.

Facts About "Ductless" Glands

Of the many glands found in the human body, the thyroid is in some respects the most interesting. Dependent upon its normal operation are important body functions.For a number of years little was known about this gland. Through extensive research many secrets of the glandular system have been disclosed. Chief of these discoveries
is the influence that the thyroid gland exercises over the body.The thyroid gland is a gland of so-called internal secretion, or "ductless" gland. The slightest derangement of this delicate organ may lead to serious disorders within the body.Many persons are familiar with a form of goiter, known as "ex-ophthalmic goiter" or "Graves disease." This disturbance is due to an abnormal increase in the secretion of the thyroid gland. This substance is known as "thyroxin."

Value of Thyroxin

On the other hand, the thyroid gland may become diseased and secrete too little thyroxin. When this occurs a disease known as "myxe-dema" results. Before anything was known about thyroxin little hope could be offered victims of this disease. Today, the disorder is quickly corrected by the administration of thyroxin, or thyroid gland extract.The sufferer from myxedema is often described as having a "thick, expressionless appearance." The body seems to be swollen. This swelling is particularly noticeable in the face and hands. The skin is dry. As a rule, the victim does not complain of pain but tires easily and is mentally and physically listless.In this condition there comes a change in the condition of the hair, as well as an alteration in the voice. The hair may become thin, coarse and brittle. The normal speaking voice is changed to a harsher and perhaps monotonous tone. These may be the only conspicuous symptoms of myxedema.Myxedema usually occurs among adults. It afflicts males and females alike, but is more common in women beyond the age of 40.

Cretinism in Children

A similar condition occurring in children is spoken of as "cretinism." This lack of thyroid secretion in children is caused by absence of the thyroid gland or comes from failure of this gland to secrete

Higher Education

George R. Plunkett, 21, of North Andover, Mass., who is distinguished among Harvard students by the fact that he can juggle five Indian clubs while riding a mono-cycle and singing, is now taking up zither-playing because his alma mater needs one. He's a junior.

normal quantities of thyroxin.

This disturbance produces signs of mental and physical retardation.
The child is underweight, undersized and has a wide, swollen looking face with rather flat nose and thick lips. The general health is poor and the child is susceptible to many infections and childhood diseases.It is amazing to see the beneficial effect of thyroid gland extract when used in the treatment of myxedema and cretinism. Within a comparatively short time the symptoms disappear and the patient returns to normal health. Of course, this medication can be given only under the supervision of a physician who will regulate the dosage and determine how long the glandular extract may be continued.

MORE ON HUNTING

Editor, The News: Nunamaker's article I believe he doesn't realize why the hunting privileges are taken away.When any hunter is so careless as to shoot himself while crawling through a fence, what respect does he show toward a farmer's land and stock?The game belongs to the farmer, not to the city hunter. It is his privilege to protect it.Who pays the taxes on the land upon which the game lives? Who fed the quail and pheasants last winter when it was 20 below zero?
Not the city hunter.There are a few hunters who respect property and are gladly given privilege to hunt, but most hunters shouldn't be allowed to carry a gun.

The land belongs to the farmer and if he wants to prohibit hunting there is no law to stop him.

If he wants a rabbit he doesn't want to walk over seven counties to get one.Laws in the city are strictly enforced and are also in the country. If any city hunter wants to bring an army out we will admit it might take a big jail to hold them all but there would be a few who wouldn't need a jail, so a few better make some other arrangements before leaving.

Christmas Corn? Sure, It's Grand Holiday Eating

CHRISTMAS corn? What's that? Why, corn for Santa Claus' reindeer, of course, for Dasher and Dancer and Prancer and Vixen, for Comet and Cupid and Donner and Blitzen. These willing quadrupeds, have a big job cut out for them every Christmas, you know, and they have to be well fed.

There are some corn recipes that are so good that they make even mere bipeds like ourselves feel as if we could develop lots of speed.

There's nothing better for a cold day, for instance, than the following:
Corn Chowder. Dice and fry one-fourth pound of bacon, add one small diced onion and a diced green pepper, and continue sauteing until brown. Add four cups diced boiled potatoes, and allow them to fry until slightly browned. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of corn, five cups milk two and a half teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and bring to scalding. This recipe serves ten, and is guaranteed to make all of them feel like dashing, dancing and prancing, but not like vixens.

A Supreme Dish
And here's a dish that makes a wonderful beginning for a winter meal. It may not make you feel like a Comet or Cupid, and it certainly won't make you feel like Thunder, but you'll take to it like Lightning.

Cream of Corn Supreme. Simmer together the contents of one No. 2 can of corn, one-half cup celery, one slice onion and two cups water for twenty minutes. Rub through sieve. Add to two cups thin white sauce, and season highly.
Just before serving, add one slightly-beaten egg mixed with one cup cream, and heat in double boiler.
Serve in bouillon cups with a sprinkling of whipped cream on top.
Serves eight.

"Leornians", Literary Club, Is Formed; Officers Elected

New Organization Sponsored by Salem Book Club; Membership of Fourteen Announced

The new literary club, sponsored by the Salem Book Club, was organized Tuesday evening at the Memorial building. The committee representing the Salem Book Club, which was in charge of organizing the new club, included Mrs. R. H. McConor, president of the Book Club; Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mrs. Irving Megard, Mrs. J. A. Fehr and Mrs. A. W. Glass. Mrs. L. W. Matthews has been appointed counselor for the new club.

The charter member list includes Mrs. Vernon Broomall, Miss Helen Shelton, Miss Lois Greenisen, Miss Margaret Kloos, Miss Harriet Percival, Miss Hazel Johnson, Mrs. Kenneth Fultz and Miss Mary Campbell. The members have chosen to be known as "The Leornians", or "The Learners", derived from the Old English.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Harriet Percival; vice-president, Mrs. Henry Sheen; secretary, Mrs. Vernon Broomall; treasurer, Miss Helen Shelton.

The following committees were appointed: Music, Miss Lois Greenisen, chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Kloos, chairman, Miss Hazel Johnson and Miss Florence Davis; constitution, Mrs. Vernon Broomall; chairman, Mrs. Henry Sheen and Mrs. Kenneth Fultz.

The new club will hold its meetings the second Wednesday of each month at the Memorial building.

The total membership now numbers 14, including Mrs. Holland Cameron, Mrs. Henry Sheen, Miss Helen Kootz, Miss Ruth Oenour, Miss Lois Snyder and Miss Florence Davis in addition to the charter members above.

Each member may invite a guest to the next meeting, who by consenting to attend, automatically becomes a member of the new club.

"The Leornians" have accepted an invitation from the Salem Book Club to attend its meeting Monday afternoon in the assembly room of the public library.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Miller and daughter, Audrey, Edwin Krumhansel and Roy Baumach of Cleveland; Charles Miller of Hartsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Garbarine are living at the home of the bride's parents.

Bridge Club Meets At White Home

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. White delightfully entertained their bridge club associates at a charming dinner party Wednesday evening at their home on West Tenth st.

The table was lovely with a centerpiece of beautiful yellow chrysanthemums and oak leaves in a crystal bowl. Tall yellow tapers in crystal holders were placed effectively at either end of the table. Individual favors carried a Thanksgiving thought.

Mrs. W. W. Tolerton and Norman L. Reich won the high score prizes.

The club members will be entertained Dec. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tolerton on East Third st.

Freed In Killing of Alliance Man

ST. CLOUD, Fla., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Sarah B. Sharp of Orlando has been absolved by a coroners jury of blame in the death of R. M. Scranton, former Alliance, O., business man.

Scranton received fatal injuries when he was hit by an automobile as he walked along a highway. Mrs. Sharp said she was driver and asserted the accident was unavoidable.

Royal Bride Poses in Her Wedding Gown

Copyright, Harper's Bazaar, Made by McEwen.

The beautiful Princess Marina of Greece is shown in this exclusive photograph, posed in her bridal gown for her marriage to the Duke of Kent, youngest son of King George and Queen Mary of England, at a brilliant ceremony in London. The gown, created by Molyneux, noted Paris designer, shows to even greater advantage the beauty of the Grecian princess. It is of silver and white lace in English rose pattern, with long bell-sleeves. The bride is wearing long tulle cascades from the diamond-studded tiara and a priceless diamond necklace.

Try This Recipe If You're Making Large Fruit Cake

ONE OF the readers of this department has made herself responsible for the cakes to be served at a party to be given by the social club of her church. She requests a recipe for a large fruit cake, the rich, fruity kind that is always so much liked. We have forwarded the recipe, but the thought occurs that maybe there are many among our readers who would like the recipe, since sooner or later there comes a time when a large fruit cake is wanted.

Ten Pounds

The recipe here given will make ten pounds of the most delicious fruit cake you ever tasted. First read through and assemble all the ingredients before beginning the actual work. Then it will go quickly.

Sift once four and a half cups one pound cake flour, measure, add one teaspoon baking powder and half teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon, mace and salt all together three times.

Cream thoroughly one pound butter or other shortening, add one pound brown sugar gradually and cream together till light and fluffy. Add ten eggs well beaten, half pound each candied cherries and candied pineapple, one pound each, dates, pitted and sliced, raisins and currants and half pound each citron, finely sliced, candied orange and lemon peel, all-so half pound nut meats chopped. Then add one cup each honey and molasses and half cup cider. Add the flour gradually. Turn into four 8x8x2-inch pans which have been greased, lined with heavy paper and again greased. Bake in slow oven (250 F.) three to three and one-half hours.

Lady Baltimore Cake

Lady Baltimore cake is always a success at parties, and so we have collected a recipe for filling and frosting which is sure to make a hit. Combine one and a half cups sugar, half teaspoon light corn syrup and two-thirds cup boiling water. Bring quickly to a boil.

Stir only till sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly without stirring until a small amount of the syrup forms a soft ball in cold water or spins a long thread when dropped from tip of spoon. Pour the syrup in a fine stream over two stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Add one teaspoon vanilla. Continue beating with rotary egg beater ten to fifteen minutes or until frosting is cool and of right spreading consistency. Use wooden spoon when too stiff for beater. For filling add enough frosting to six chopped figs, half cup chopped pecan or walnut meats, and make a filling that will spread easily. Spread remaining frosting on top and sides of cake. Makes enough frosting and filling to spread between two nine-inch layers and covers top and sides of cake.

Tasty Salad Is Important For Cold Day's Meal

Now that brisker days are with us, we hope that you will still continue to make salads an important part of your luncheons and dinners. We don't mean salad served as a side dish, but a big salad as a course. Try new dressings for it is the dressing that makes a magnificent dish out of the simplest salad.

There are few fundamental rules for the perfect salad; the lettuce or other greens must be well cleaned, carefully dried and well chilled. All other ingredients must be put together with neatness so that the eye as well as the palate be pleased. And the dressing must be good.

Some of my readers have written asking for a short-cut salad that is failure-proof and we are pleased to be able to give a splendid recipe. To make magic salad dressing, place quarter cup vinegar or lemon juice, quarter cup salad oil or melted butter, two-thirds of a cup of sweetened condensed milk, one unbeaten egg yolk, half teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne and one teaspoon dry mustard all in the order named in a pint jar. Fasten top of jar on tightly and shake vigorously for two minutes. The mixture will blend perfectly. If thicker consistency is required, place jar in refrigerator to chill before serving.

A delightful dressing for fruit salad can be made by adding a quarter cup of marshmallow cream to the recipe given, just before serving. Stir it in until well blended. Another grand variation of this is to make a cream dressing by adding half cup of cream whipped until stiff, just before serving.

NEW YORK—That tradition of children begging in tattered costumes on Thanksgiving day, just another old New York custom, apparently is dying of old age.

The streets were almost devoid of the hawking children, quaintly disguised who have dunned coins and delicacies in bygone days.

It may have been the weather or the campaign conducted by children welfare agencies—but many believed it was just that modern children think it's a little too unsophisticated to dress up and beg.

Still Puzzle "Babes-in-Wood" Mystery

Pennsylvania state police are pushing investigation of the mystery of the deaths of the three little girls found in the woods near Carlisle, Pa., with clues turning up in various cities throughout the east. Photo, left, shows a detective examining the clothing taken from a traveling bag found in a thicket near the death scene and believed definite clues to the tragedy. On the right is Paul White, Harrisburg bus driver, who identified the body of a woman found in a shack near Altoona, Pa., as the companion of the three children on a bus from New York to Harrisburg.

Dies After Losing His Life Savings

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Joseph Pocius, 40, feared he'd lose his life savings if he left them at home when he went to a movie with his wife.

He took the $150 with him, and today he had lost both his savings and his life.

As Mr. and Mrs. Pocius left the theatre last night a purse-snatcher grabbed the money. Pocius gave chase and almost caught the robber.

Suddenly he fell. When his wife reached his side, he was dead of a heart attack.

Winter Descends On Plains States

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30.—A heavy snowstorm swirled over large areas of the Rocky Mountain and plains states today as winter renewed an assault started a week ago.

Beginning late yesterday the snow fell throughout this section during the night bringing additional moisture to drought-parched farm and grazing lands. It halted airplane traffic; marooned hundreds of homeward bound football fans; disrupted wire communications and resulted in numerous minor traffic accidents.

The Ozark hills in southwestern Missouri were covered with a white blanket a foot deep. Branches on trees in the section broke under the weight of the snow. Highway workers pulled hundreds of motorists from ditches while seeking to keep the roads open.

A snow mantle, three to 14 inches thick covered eastern Arizona mountains. A light snow fell in northwestern Montana.

Noble Appointed State Relief Aid

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30.—Ray Noble of Youngstown, Mahoning county relief director, today was appointed assistant field representative in charge of district one by the state relief administration.

The appointment is effective Dec. 1 and Noble will be succeeded at Youngstown temporarily by George Brooks, work division manager in Mahoning county. Brooks will serve as acting county relief administrator until a successor is chosen.

Noble will be assistant to Tom Winterstein, who has been in charge of district one for some time. Noble's headquarters will be

Philippine Storm Causes More Deaths

(By Associated Press)
MANILA, P. I., Nov. 30.—Meager reports left in doubt today the death and destruction caused by one of the most severe of the series of typhoons which have claimed 300 lives in the Philippines in the last three months.

Seven provinces in the central islands, south and southeast of here were completely cut off from communication with Manila.

The hurricane reached its most violent pitch in Leyte islands where the wind reached a reported velocity of 125 miles an hour. Only one storm death was reported but damage in the already storm swept province was estimated at $500,000 by Governor Vincente De La Cruz.

SPEED VS. LIFE

The higher the speed, the worse the accident. In other words, speed may not necessarily cause accidents but it makes them mighty serious if they do happen. An accident at low speed will probably cause only slight damage to your car; at high speed it is likely to cause death. Always be in a position to stop within the range of your vision at intersections and curves. Lose a minute any time rather than risk a life.—A. A. A.

Carew's Vanderbilt Decision Stirs Other Judges

Counter-Solomonic decision of New York Judge John Carew in depriving Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt of custody of her child, Gloria, 10, is arousing outspoken comment of other jurists. Typical comments: Joseph Sabath, Chicago: A mother good enough to have the children two days a week is fit to have complete custody. Walter LaBuy, Chicago: A full public airing... would be better than suppression of part of the proceedings. D. R. Valentine, Los Angeles: Carew's ruling is at wide variance with the practice in my court. Ralph H. Smith, Pittsburgh: I would never take a child away... until its mother's moral fitness had been proved beyond doubt. Thos. F. Graham, San Francisco: Best place for a child is with its mother....

Appetite gone?
A simple thing, perhaps...yet a very serious one, resulting in loss of strength...body weakness... and possibly many other ills. So why not check-up and snap back to the zest of eating and well being.
You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion... sound sleep... and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S." makes you feel like yourself again.

Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.
